SOCIAL STUDIES

DR. CLAYTON J. DREES, Program Coordinator

The social studies major is a broadly-based liberal arts program focusing on the history and structure of diverse peoples, regions and institutions. Areas of study include history, government, civics, international studies, geography, and economics. While many social studies majors pursue careers in law, government, foreign service, or museum work, others choose the major to acquire the core competencies required by the Commonwealth of Virginia for secondary education certification in social studies.

The Sociology Program

The primary purpose of the sociology program is to provide concrete occasions and intellectual resources that can help students understand the social and cultural dimensions of human behavior. By focusing on the concepts, theories and techniques of inquiry employed by sociologists, we hope to foster the sociological perspective. The department provides a great number of support courses which are designed to serve other major programs, and every course offered is intended to serve the general goals of liberal arts education.
